- 9. Start the program by double clicking the Xtreme Accounting icon on your Desktop.
- 10. Log on. The default Username is SYSADMIN and the password is XTREME. Please note that the password is case sensitive so XTREME and xtreme are interpreted by the system as two completely different passwords.

You will, by default, be logged on to the DEMO company. It is advisable to set up your own users and limit the use of the default user name.

Congratulations, your installation and setup of Xtreme Accounting is complete. You are now ready to load your company details and begin processing. If you want to get familiar with the system before loading your own data, you may use the DEMO company which is installed by default.

Once the system has been installed, you will need to activate the software. Until this is done, the software will be a full-feature Demo version that will be subject to a maximum time limit that you can try the system before requiring activation. To activate, please refer to Chapter 1 for details on Activating the product.

During the trial period (before you activate the product), you will see the screen below. To continue to work without activating the software, click the radio button I want to evaluate Xtreme Accounting.

The system will now operate normally until you log off the system.

Important Notes

- 1. Before switching off your computer, ensure that the Xtreme Accounting program has been correctly closed. Failure to do so may result in data corruption and/or data loss.
- 2. Perform regular backups of your data. These backups should be stored off-site. Refer to the Data Backup in the Administration section later in the manual.
- 3. Consider using an Uninterrupted Power Supply (UPS) to protect your system from power spikes and dips. The UPS should be of a sufficient size to enable you to close all your open programs (including Xtreme Accounting) in an orderly manner, before the UPS power supply is exhausted.

Conventions

- 1. All module functions can be selected via the tabs at the top of the screen. These tabs will show you drop down menu options that can be selected.
- 2. Additionally, all the modules can also be selected by clicking on the corresponding module button which will open additional buttons pertaining to the module you chose.
- 3. Should a button/tab or drop down box option be "greyed out", this indicates that your user rights prevent you from accessing that particular feature. If this function is required, please ask your System Administrator to allocate you the required access.
- 4. When this Manual refers to a selection sequence of mouse clicks, they will be denoted in italics. For example, to generate a Customer Age Analysis, the sequence is as follows : Customers ... Reports ... Age Analysis. This sequence means the following :
 - a. Click on the Customer icon on the Main Menu
 - b. Click on the Reports icon on the Customers Menu
 - c. Click on the Age Analysis option on the Report Menu.
- 5. Reports are generated in the widely-used PDF format, from which they can be viewed, saved, emailed or printed. If your computer does not have a PDF viewer, this can be downloaded and installed using the following link : http://www.adobe.com/products/acrobat/readstep2.html
